International Conference on Women, Safety and Health in Asia

Kathmandu, Nepal
August 29–31, 2019

Pre-Conference Workshops at
Kathmandu University Dhulikhel
August 27–28, 2019

The conference will focus on the health of women in Asia, which is increasingly threatened by poverty, discrimination, violence, and other challenges to physical and psychological well-being.

These challenges have to be approached by interdisciplinary strategies integrating mental health, general medicine and gynecology, legal and social research and interventions.

Recent research as well as intervention models developed in Asia, by international expert groups, organizations and service providers will be the special focus of the conference.

We will offer a limited number of scholarships for students and participants from the Asian region to enhance networking and offer low barrier access to the conference, that will be partly covered by the general participation fees – a sign of solidarity.
